What does a Dinosaur Museum have to do with Christmas?

When Christmastime rolls around, what do you think about? Perhaps you imagine the pretty lights and Christmas decorations all around you. Or maybe you think of the nativity scene, and the glory of angels filling the sky, praising God. Whatever you think of, I highly doubt it would be dinosaurs!

Connecting a dinosaur museum with Christmas can seem like a tall task. However, as a creation-based dinosaur museum, we have much to say, since Christmas is a major part of God's plan to redeem His creation. Over at Creation Today, our friend, Eric Hovind, wrote the following about a conversation he had with Simon Turpin from Answers in Genesis UK:

“How many of you think about the first man God created – Adam? The creation account is not one we often associate with Christmas and the incarnation of our Savior, but the link between Adam and Jesus is actually quite significant.

Mr. Turpin walks through the parallels between the first Adam, and Jesus, the Last Adam. In the beginning, Adam brought physical and spiritual death into the world through his sin, but Jesus, by dying a physical death on the cross, brought resurrection! Where Adam failed to obey, Christ's perfect obedience was sufficient. The redemption of mankind from Genesis to the Gospels is the connection between the sin of the first Adam and the perfection of the Last Adam.

But why is the connection between creation and Christmas so important? Mr. Turpin says it best: “The Son of God became human so that humans can become sons of God.” In the beginning, God created humans in His image, so Jesus' incarnation and perfect sacrifice on the cross made a way for us to get back to God's perfect design. Where the first Adam failed, causing death to reign through his trespass, the Last Adam was victorious, causing righteousness to reign through His grace.

So this Christmas, as you spend time with your loved ones and open gifts around the tree, be sure to reflect on the grace and humility of Christ at Christmas, and recognize the gift of God in response to the failing of the first Adam.”

Merry Christmas from the staff at the Glendive Dinosaur & Fossil Museum! May you experience God's grace this Christmas as you surrender your life to Him!

Where Biblical History Comes Alive!

Thank you!

Thank you to all of our guests in 2025! We had over 11,900 visitors to the museum, making this the second largest year we have ever had! Thank you also to our committed volunteers who give of their time to keep the museum running smoothly. We look forward to 2026 and your continued support through prayer, financial giving, and volunteering! Enjoy some snapshots of this past year: digs, fossil finds, events, and new exhibits.

Support the Museum this Christmas!

The museum's work is supported through your donations, attendance, annual passes, and purchases in our gift shop. We appreciate all of our supporters throughout the year. Your generous giving encourages us and helps us to keep spreading the message of our Creator and Savior to all those who come through the museum.

Looking for gifts? Shop with us this Christmas on our online store at creationtruth.myshopify.com. Or check out our annual individual and family museum passes on our website.
